PROCEEDINGS

Preliminaries

- The meeting was called to order by Andy Anderson at 4:37 p.m. in the Board Auditorium of the Carruth Administration Center.
- There were no public comments or items from members.

Superintendent's Update

- Dr. Cruz went over the following points:
 - The Adelante conference on multiple languages
 - Several examples of how things have greatly changed
 - The need for classrooms to also change
 - Loss of enrollment is not unique to AISD we're seeing it in other urban districts around the state and nation
 - We've adopted the equity framework of the National Equity Project
 - It may be surprising that LBJ High School had the highest rate of students receiving college credits
 - Trusting relationships are important to student success
 - The City of Austin recently adopted a resolution in continued support of AISD
- Discussion points included:
 - Engagement is part of the instructional core students will learn more for you than from you
 - It would be good to give students more musical education at earlier ages
 - A lot of data show that students in the fine arts tend to do better in other subjects
 - We may need to pursue waivers to accomplish some of our new and different strategies

Title I Update

- Dr. Mary Thomas, Executive Director of State and Federal Compliance and Accountability, went over the following points:
 - Title I funding is based on census data
 - The essential reason for Title I is to assist students with the greatest needs
 - Our Title I funding has continued to go down over the last several years Austin is losing lower income families due to the high cost of living
 - This school year we have 75 Title I campuses
 - Private schools may choose to participate in Title I, and we are charged with passing funding through to them
 - The expectation is that campuses will not stay on Title I forever that they will improve
 - Next school year, 15 campuses will be impacted by Title I funding reductions
 - Enrollment and program data we use to determine Title I funding is derived on a specific date, and it is set for the rest of the school year

- Title I funding is for students aged 5-17, but we have certain other grants that go to Pre-K and Early Childhood
- The upcoming census will have important implications to our Title I funding
- Discussion points included:
 - We need to get the word out about how important it is to take the census
 - We also need to get the word out for non-citizens not to be scared to participate
 - We'll be holding community meetings to help increase understanding of how Title I works
 - The thresholds for campuses receiving Title I funding are reviewed by the district every year

Census 101 and Data Update

- Joey Crumley, Planning Supervisor, Office of Innovation and Development, went over the following points:
 - The Decennial Census (DC) is coming up in 2020
 - The DC is constitutionally mean for one thing to determine the number of representatives each state has in Congress
 - The DAC strives to reach every household in the U.S., and participation is mandatory
 - AISD is already working with the Census Bureau on getting the word out about the importance of participation
 - A challenge for us in over 85,000 non-citizens living within our boundaries the Trump administration wants to add a question to the DC about citizenship status, which has received several legal challenges
 - The U.S. Supreme Court has indicated that it will accelerate the legal process and here this issue in April
 - The American Community Survey (ACS) is administered every year by the Census Bureau, and it took the place of what used to be the DC "long form"
 - Only about 3-4 million households across the nation receive the ACS each year data results are then extrapolated from this relatively small sample size
 - Although there may be annual variations in the extrapolated data, general trends can still be established, and the ACS is still a valuable planning tool
 - ACS data are available by many geographic areas, including school districts data for within AISD boundaries may be different to some extent from that for the City of Austin or Travis County
 - The ACS does ask about citizenship status, but it hasn't been legally challenged, since the data are estimates only the DC data are official
 - Highlights of 2017 ACS data for AISD include: 15.3% population increase since 2008; population increasingly more educated; population below poverty level trending down; birth rate trending down; population below age 5 trending down.
 - AISD is continuing to lose more of its "market share" of school-age children charters are a big reason for this, but not the only reason there are also private schools and home schooling, loss of families due to cost of living, and the size of the market itself declining

Charter School Data Update

- Mr. Crumley went over the following points:
 - Only charter schools recognized by TEA are being tracked
 - There are currently 53 charters within or adjacent to AISD, with a total enrollment of 21,924
 - In some cases, multiple charter campuses are clustered at one location
 - Most charters are in the eastern, northeastern, and southeastern parts of the district
 - Whereas charter school enrollment has continued to increase, AISD enrollment has continued to decline since 2012-2013
 - Charters often start off with just a few grades, then retain students by adding grades each year

- Only 40% of local charters include any high school grades
- Last school year, 3 charters were rated IR (compared to 4 for AISD)
- Most local charters have particularly high percentages of Hispanic and Economically Disadvantaged students – however, a few have particularly high percentages of African American, Asian, or White students

Conclusion

- Due to insufficient time remaining, the Charter School Funding presentation was moved to the next meeting.
- The meeting was adjourned by Andy Anderson at 6:15 p.m.
